

Australian
National University

2019 Banking and Financial Stability Meeting

CALL FOR PAPERS

When:

11.00am Tuesday 16 July till 2.00pm Wednesday 17 July, 2019

Where:

College of Business and Economics, Australian National University
Lecture Theatre 1, Building 26C Kingsley Street
Canberra ACT 2601

Keynote speakers:

Manju Puri, Duke University

Christopher James, University of Florida

We invite submissions of empirical and theoretical papers spanning the fields of finance, economics, accounting and politics that touch on the broad theme of Banking and Financial Stability. The topics of interest include, but are not limited to: Bank risk taking incentives; bank competition; bank ownership; governance, systemic risk and financial regulation; political economy of regulation; government intervention in financial markets; coordination failures, self-fulfilling beliefs, and runs; financial institutions, networks, and contagion; credit markets; household finance; and information disclosure, market discipline; and financial crises and fragility on firms' financing and investment policies.

The principal objectives of the meeting are to stimulate policy relevant research in economic science and to generate greater understanding by academic economists of practitioner's environments and vice versa.

Interested authors should submit blind copies of their papers via the OpenConf online submission portal – <https://openconf.org/FIRNTOPIC2019/track4/openconf.php> - no later than close of business Friday May 17, 2018.

Authors will be notified of the decision by June 16. Interstate presenters and invited discussants will receive reimbursement for their travel and accommodation expenses as determined by the program committee.