

Call for Papers
2024 Corporate Finance Research Meeting
September 12-13, Adelaide, South Australia

The University of Adelaide Business School and Australia's Global Finance Research Network (FIRN) are inviting academics and international visiting scholars from FIRN member institutions to submit a paper for the annual FIRN Corporate Finance Research Group meeting. We aim to establish a thriving and collaborative academic community dedicated to corporate finance research. Our objectives are to foster connections between esteemed international academics and local researchers and to provide a platform for showcasing groundbreaking research conducted by FIRN members.

MEETING VENUE & TIMES:

12 September – 9 am to late at the Longview Vineyard, Macclesfield

(<https://www.longviewvineyard.com.au/>). Transport will be provided from Adelaide for interstate attendees.

13 September – 9 am to 2 pm at Plane Tree Centre at the Adelaide Zoo - <https://www.adelaidezoo.com.au/>
(walking distance from the Adelaide Business School)

KEYNOTE SPEAKER:

Noah Stoffman
Professor of Finance
Gregg T. and Judith A. Summerville Chair
Kelley School of Business, Indiana University

His research focuses on the investment decisions of professional money managers and individual investors, and on the effect of technological innovation on asset prices. Much of his work highlights the importance of social interaction in the spread of information in financial markets. Professor Stoffman teaches courses on analysis of financial data to undergraduates, MBAs and doctoral students at the Kelley School. You can find more information on his CV. <https://host.kelley.iu.edu/nstoffma/cv.pdf>
