Announcement Description

You are invited to submit your paper to the 11th annual Melbourne Asset Pricing Meeting hosted by The University of Melbourne and FIRN, Australia's Global Finance Research Network. The meeting is a one-day conference to be held in person on Monday, 21 October 2024 at The University of Melbourne in Melbourne, Australia and will include paper presentations and discussions. This year we are very pleased to have Zhi Da, the Howard J. and Geraldine F. Korth Professor of Finance at the University of Notre Dame as our keynote speaker.

We invite researchers to submit unpublished empirical or theoretical papers on all topics in asset pricing and investments to ap-meeting@unimelb.edu.au by 31 May 2024. Possible topics include, but are not limited to: theoretical and empirical models of asset prices and returns, return predictability, empirical methodology, macro-finance, the study of financial institutions as related to asset prices, information and liquidity in asset markets, behavioural investment studies, asset market structure and microstructure, risk analysis, hedge funds, mutual funds, pension funds, ESG, the impact of COVID19, and alternative investments.

AWARDS: There will be prizes awarded to the best paper and to the best discussion at the meeting.

PAPER SUBMISSIONS: Interested authors are invited to submit their papers to ap-meeting@unimelb.edu.au by 31 May 2024. There is no submission fee. Please note, that the Melbourne Asset Pricing Meeting will be held in person at the University of Melbourne in Melbourne, Australia. Acceptance emails will be sent by 31 July 2024, and you will be asked to confirm your in-person attendance before your paper is included in the conference program.

PROGRAM COMMITTEE: Shuang Chen, Patrick Kelly, Bryan Lim, and Lucie Lu.
